

BOLSHEVIKI HALTED IN DYNA FIGHTING

Second Attack in Week
Checked by Americans and Scotch.

BIG BATTLE IN ARCTIC

Night Operations Are Carried on Under Brilliant Northern Lights.

By the Associated Press.
ARCTIC, Feb. 1 (delayed).—While they have succeeded in capturing the Shengkurk and Tarevno sectors, the Bolsheviks are still unable to make any impression on the American and allied lines on the Dyva sector near Tullas.

For the second time within a week a night attack by the enemy there was repulsed by the Americans and the Scotch.

The latest attack occurred early Friday. The Bolsheviks stormed the upper Tullas but met with severe losses, withdrew, giving their artillery a clean sweep of the village. The Americans killed twenty of the Bolsheviks and wounded twenty and also took seven prisoners. The allied patrols on the Tarevno sector moved southward twelve miles without encountering the enemy.

The indications are that the Bolsheviks are not following the Americans on their line of retreat here, but are moving in the direction of the Dyva in an effort to cut off the Dyva and Vaga forces at Pointe, north of the junction point of the two rivers.

Last night's fighting was carried out under a clear sky and in cold weather. During the fighting the northern lights flamed spectacularly.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 2.—An official communication issued by the Estonian Government says:

SCORNS COMPROMISE WITH BOLSHEVISM

Head of Provisional Government on Way to Paris.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Feb. 2.—Nicholas Tschakovsky, president of the provisional government of north Russia, who is in London on his way to Paris in connection with the Peace Conference, in an interview today fully endorsed the view already given by Gen. Eugene Karlovich Miller, Minister of Foreign Affairs, that the same Government that it would be impossible to meet the Bolsheviks at Pripielo (one of the Princes' Islands).

He declared that Bolshevik rule stood for tyranny and terrorism, atrocities and the abolition of all discipline.

Protesting against the statement at Paris treating the Bolsheviks as if they were a political party, President Tschakovsky said:

"So long as Bolshevism is alive there can be no peace in Russia, and therefore no peace in Europe. If Russia is forced to accept the Peace Conference, its conditions are not binding on Russia, and all the Slavonic nations, who look to Russia as their head, will morally be left out of account. Then your league of nations never could be realized.

"The Allies must find some organic solution of the Russian problem, not merely waste it away as has been done by the Prinkipian invasion, which is not only impracticable but humiliating to the representatives of Russia as a State. Don't ask us. Fighting Bolshevism, we cannot. We must fight to the death or Russia will perish."

PARIS, Feb. 2.—Representatives here of the Baltic provinces of Russia display great willingness to enter into any sort of federation in Russia, that the Peace Conference is concerned. Lett, Lithuanians and Estonians apparently all are willing to participate in the proposed conference on the Baltic islands and are anxious to take any steps which will put an end to Bolshevik aggression and restore order.

The provinces, it is held, even will federate with Finland under a government wholly separate from Russia, should the Peace Conference so advise.

which was unauthorized to exercise control over the national Government.

Fertile soil for the seeds of Bolshevism exists in the unwillingness of great numbers of the workmen and soldiers' Councils to be legislated by the National Assembly of these Councils in their calling, the men who before the war were accustomed to work for a living, but now find themselves in a position of real authority, with almost no work and good pay and Government automobiles at their disposal.

The Bolshevik advocates of the Soviet Government from the beginning have been playing on these men's natural reaction to the order of the war. The Minister gave the agitators a welcome letter. This order, as already reported, authorized the Soldiers' Councils to control the order of the war. The Minister gave the agitators a welcome letter. ALBANY, Feb. 2.—Some of the Republican leaders in the Legislature are beginning to express opposition to giving Gov. Smith's Reconstruction Commission the $75,000 appropriation asked for. It is possible there will be a conference this week on this subject and on general legislation, as the legislative leaders are anxious to make up a schedule of big bills that are to be passed and a working agreement with the Governor.

Among other things to be discussed with him is his order that there must be no new jobs. The bill, which is the Governor's expressed desire to eliminate all counsel of the various State departments, confining legal business to the Attorney-General's office, appropriations of more than $1,000,000 are involved.

The Senate Finance Committee and Assembly Ways and Means Committee comprise the legislative budget committee, and they have been eliminating from the tentative budget all requests for new places, with the result that many are being heard from New York City and other parts of the State.

HARRISON BACK FROM MANILA.

Governor-General of Philippines
Denies Resignation Report.

General Harrison, Governor-General of the Philippines, who arrived here last night, has been reported to have resigned his office. He is reported to have been taking a six months' vacation, not having had any since 1914, and will incidentally look after his personal business interests. He had applied for leave just before the United States entered the war, but withdrew his request to do his bit on the islands.

In regard to the occupation of the Caroline and Marshall Islands, near the Philippines, Gov. Harrison said: "The subject has not been discussed by the State Department, and the Government is willing to give the State $100,000 for the purpose of the building of an engineering bureau of the State Department appropriations for thirty-three new employees, with a salary of $10,000 each. These have been linked with the rest."

Lost Revenues at Stake.
The State Tax Department in its last annual report declared that hundreds of thousands of dollars in revenues were being lost to localities because of the inability of local assessors to properly determine the amounts for which big manufacturing plants and their machinery should be taxed.

As a cure for this evil it asked for an appropriation with which to engage two expert tax appraisers who would be sent all around the State to aid local assessors in carrying out their duties. These items have been struck out.

The State Industrial Commission wanted four auditors to go about the State checking payrolls of employers who carry the workmen's compensation insurance with the State Insurance Fund. At the present time the State has to look to the employers as to how many employees they have. The plan was to check up and verify their statements. These four proposed jobs of $1,500 each have gone the way of the rest.

In almost every State department the ever increasing activities have led the
